

SILENT ROWAN SIGNS ARTICLES

Match With Green is Sure to Come Off.

GOSSIP OF THE LOCAL RING

JIMMY BURNS IS LOOKING FOR A CONTEST.

Word from Anaconda says that Silent Rowan has signed articles of agreement to fight Phil Green in this city on the 14th of this month. Green was seen yesterday, and says he had already agreed to fight him. It was sent to the silent man, so that nothing now stands between the meeting of the two men. Silent will off the contest in connection with a snooker. To everybody's surprise the board said yes, and the fight was set. The answer was an admission that the game would be allowed to reopen. If the fight is pulled off at the D. A. C. club house, in all probability there will be a small-sized war between the club and the Elyria Athletic club people. The latter have spent considerable money advertising the bout, and will not step aside for the more powerful D. A. C. without a strong protest.

CORBETT'S MONOLOGUE

Tells of a Fight When He Was a Youngster and Worked in a Bank.

One of the best stories Jim Corbett gets off in his vaudeville monologue relates to his initial fight in California. He says: "When I was about 15 years old I secured a position in a bank at 'Frisco. My father, a typical Irishman, was very proud of me because I worked in post, from the nose becoming swelled from punching. "I did not think an operation was necessary for me, however, and I am glad I did not try, after seeing McGovern. His face is still badly swollen." Another fighter who has found it necessary to have an operation performed on his nose to ease the breathing is "Kid" Carter.

ENTERTAINS A TOWN.

Sullivan a White Elephant For Connecticut City.

John L. Sullivan got clear off his base at Norwalk, Conn., last week, which proves that the greatest fighter of them all has not in the least forgotten the tricks of his younger days. Norwalk has come to the conclusion that John L. Sullivan they have a real white elephant on their hands. He went there as the head of the Downey & Goodrich "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company. Not long after his arrival he went to the Hotel Clifford, where he began buying beverages for the crowd. To his disgust, drinks could not be mixed fast enough, so he went behind the bar to show them how it was done.

When it was time for him to appear as Simon Legree at the theatre, Sullivan felt indisposed. He became inquisitive and asked in what town he was. On the street he saw two women, and would not let them go without profusely shaking hands. Though his company had gone, Sullivan still was entertaining the town at last reports.

Jack Lafontise Very Ill.

Jack Lafontise, well known among the Salt Lake ring followers and brother of Mose Lafontise, the welterweight champion of Montana, is critically ill at his home in Butte, Mont. Jack is afflicted with dropsy, from which he has been suffering for the past four months. He refused to believe his physicians when told that the disease was dropsy, and went to Billings and saw the fight between his brother, Mose, and Charlie Johnson of Philadelphia in their twenty-round contest. While returning home he became ill. The train on which he was riding was switched off in an opposite direction because of a wreck, and he dropped off and ran about a quarter of a mile to Logan. The run exhausted him, and he had to be carried to his home. Later on he was found prostrated on the floor, and since then he has been unable to leave his bed. If his health will permit the physicians will remove him to Hot Springs, Ark.

Looks Like a Match.

New York, Feb. 1.—James J. Kennedy met Robert Fitzsimmons today and offered him terms for a fight with the champion of the world. The terms suit the Cornishman and it is assumed that Jeffries also will agree to them, inasmuch as William Delaney, Jeffries' manager, had been sounded by Kennedy to meet his conditions should be if the matter was finally arranged with Fitzsimmons. Kennedy's object is to have the men fight before a club in San Francisco in which he has interest. Jeffries will arrive in this city tomorrow from New England.

Latest About Jeffries.

The latest dope story about James J. Jeffries comes from Denver. It is to the effect that Jeffries will quit the ring, and reads as follows: "It is said the champion is tired of acting and disgusted with the status of the fighting game. Jeffries has invested considerable money in mining property near Ward, Colo., and intends to take up his residence in Denver and look after his interests." This may serve the purpose of keeping Jeffries name before the public, but there are still a few people who will have to be confronted with strong proof that this before they will take any stock in the talk of the champion retiring.

Derby Winner Will Rest.

"Virginia" Bradley, who has just arrived at Hot Springs, Ark., says that he will have money on Robert Wadell, last American Derby winner, and allow the gelding to rest during the forthcoming season. Bradley owns a full sister to Robert Wadell, which he is expected to find of some great value for her. She has been entered in many Chicago juvenile stakes.

SPEEDY BIKER RETURNS HOME

Samuelson Arrived in Provo Yesterday.

HAD GOOD ENGAGEMENT

WILL COMMENCE TRAINING FOR SAUCER RACES.

(Special to The Herald.)

Provo, Feb. 1.—W. F. Samuelson, Provo's champion bicyclist, has returned from the east, where he has been for the past few months, taking up with the fast wheelmen of the world. Samuelson was called home on account of the sickness of one of his children. When he arrived in Provo he intended to return to New York and accept an engagement with a theatrical company, but he now thinks he will remain in Provo the balance of the winter and put himself under thorough training for next season's races in Salt Lake, after which he will make a complete tour of the big eastern cities and enter all the big races.

In training in his home town the remainder of the winter, Mr. Samuelson is forfeiting a $75 a week engagement on the stage. He was offered that amount to remain in New York. He says he has learned something about the cycling business, and believes he can enter the contest next year with reasonable assurance of winning first money. When asked about the title "hobo team" given himself and King in the east he said it was simply a little dodge resorted to whoop up the races. "And," he said, "it gave King and me plenty of notoriety, too. It did us no harm."

WHEELMEN PLEASED.

Prospects For Cycle Paths Are Very Bright.

The bicycle riders of the city are pleased over the prospects for cycle paths. They have been fighting for this necessary improvement to cycle riders in this city for the past ten years and at last they are practically assured of success. The mayor and city engineer have both within the past week in their annual reports to the city council, recommended the construction of these paths. Nearly all of the councilmen at the construction of cycle paths and apparently the wheelmen have no objection to overcome.

SAYS RUBE IS BROKE

Waddell Now in Los Angeles Without a Cent and May Have to Walk Back Home.

Most of the ball players who went with the All-American team on their last fall, have returned home, but the crowd belonging to the All-American team is still on the coast. The returned players, who were with the All-American team, was left at Los Angeles, where they are now wondering how they will get back home. Rube was dead broke. Says Bradley, one of the returned party: "We found out how to manage Rube," said Bernhard, "but he won't give him about 25 cents at a time. He was always broke and that's how we kept him going. He pitched about the thirty-two games we played. He was a great favorite out there on the coast, and the first game that we played we had to lock the gates to keep the people out. We cleared about $800 apiece. We left Rube in Los Angeles without a cent."

According to those that came back the teams on the coast are playing fast ball, though most of the games of the All-American team were played with the All-American team at San Francisco. Sacramento, Oakland and other nearby teams were played on Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

"Say, Rube was a comical," continued Bernhard. "We had him, but his townspeople were not next to his borrowing tendency and so were easy marks. Rube got a cab one night and only had $2 to pay for it. He invited the cabbie in to have a drink. Suddenly Rube discovered he only had the two bucks."

"That's all I've got," says Rube. "The cabbie said, 'You can pay me any time.' Then the barkeeper puts in his voice. 'Have some money, Rube?' says he. 'No,' says Rube. 'Then they argue about it and Rube says: 'No I don't want any.' 'Well, you might as well take some,' says the barkeeper. 'All right,' says Rube. 'Give me $50.' 'He got it and the barkeeper never saw him again. The only way we could keep him working was to keep him broke. That's how he has a contract with Hart. Well, I guess if Hart wants him he will have to send him a ticket. Otherwise he will have to stay where he is."

"He got a fine trip and made money, both of which were what we went for. I guess we have nothing left to guess about."

CALL DEAL OFF.

Tebeau and Hickey Will Not Enter Omaha.

Hickey and Tebeau have given up the fight to have Omaha placed on the list of the American association. There were too many difficulties in the way of getting a suitable baseball park. The sentiment of the business men against a dual city of clubs and leagues also discouraged the promoters. The official announcement is only a matter of time, as arrangements are nearly completed to add Louisville to the association circuit.

Answering questions put by counsel, she declared that no one brought up as a millionaire's daughter could live on $4,000 a year. Justice Ridley, commenting on the testimony, said he regretted he had not the advantage of being brought up as a millionaire's daughter. It transpired during the proceedings that Mrs. Chetwynd's income is $20,000. As all parties are well known in society, the disclosures created a sensation.

PASSES HOME TALENT

School Board Committee Goes to Pleasant Grove to Secure a Principal For Lincoln.

Just how far to encourage worthy teachers in the public schools is a question to principals and how fast to advance principals to more important charges, was the topic before the board of education committee on teachers and school work yesterday. In conference with Superintendent Christensen. The discussion was precipitated by the superintendent recommending the employment of John Combs of Pleasant Grove to take the principalship of the Lincoln school. Miss Mitchell was formerly principal of a large school at Clinton, Ia., and even Superintendent Christensen conceded that she is fully qualified for the higher position. But the superintendent had recommended Mr. Combs, who, although a young man with only a few years of experience as school master, he vouched for as possessing the requisite strength of qualifications, and he was chosen over the opposite

SURVEY COMMENCED

Work on Mile Track at Agricultural Park Began Yesterday.

It is plainly evident that the D. A. & M. society means business in regard to the horse racing at the Agricultural park this summer. They have frequently declared a mile track will be constructed if necessary to insure good sport, and President Empey said the survey was commenced yesterday for the new mile track by a competent engineer, with orders to push the work to completion as fast as possible. The engineer will then furnish an estimate of the probable cost of construction and submit the same to the executive committee for its action.

Mr. Empey says this committee will meet next Tuesday and at that time would take definite action on the matter. There is a disposition among the horsemen to act fairly toward the society on the proposition and have the two factions work in harmony. A horseman stated yesterday that in all probability a few of the prime movers in the new track would ask for an audience with the executive committee and see if everything could not be settled satisfactory to both parties in this way.

The much-talked-of proposition of building a track south of the town is apparently lost in the present controversy between the horsemen and fair track. However, both sides seem to be willing to do what is right for the best interests of the sport, and in all probability their differences will be amicably settled.

Twenty Thousand a Year.

Too Little She Says For a Millionaire's Daughter.

London, Feb. 1.—A sensational dispute between a wealthy mother and daughter over the custody of the latter's children, was aired in the courts this week. The parties were Mrs. May-Leland and her daughter, Hon. Lady May-Leland, who was Miss Jennie Chamberlain of Cleveland, Mrs. Chetwynd was divorced from her husband in 1900. She then signed an agreement allowing her two little girls to spend a certain time with Mrs. May-Leland, for which privilege the latter allowed her daughter $2,000 yearly, making her income $4,000.

On Thursday last Mrs. Chetwynd sued her mother to recover $2,000 due under this agreement, but a decision was rendered against her, as it was proven that she had removed the children from their grandmother's care, had taken them to South Africa and had neglected their education, thereby breaking her part of the contract.

In court Mrs. Chetwynd swore that her mother was mad, that she was not fit to have the children with her on account of her constantly changing count-high, weighs 1,500 pounds and is a dark bay. Elizagal was sired by Star of Cleveland, who won the first prize in the London horse show. His dam is Fanciful, imported by N. E. Clark of St. Cloud, Minn., and winner of the sweepstakes at Chicago in 1889 for any age or breed. Elizagal is a registered animal and is considered one of the best coach animals in the state. The prospective purchasers are Messrs. Hatch and Carlisle of Heber City and the price named is $1,800. James Rae, the well known local horseman, brought the animal to this city and it was through him the purchase will be made.
